- (4) Registration is deemed to have read and agreed to this admission guidelines and the notification regarding gathering, handling and using personal information of participants.

6. Application Review Process

The application documents will be reviewed by Taiwan overseas embassies and OCAC Cultural Center during the first stage (if OCAC does not have officers stationed in the region, the preliminary review will be handled by our OCAC officers assigned to oversee that region). The OCAC will then conduct the second stage review. The final admission results will be communicated through our overseas embassies and OCAC Cultural Centers.

7. Passport and Visa Requirements

The participant's passport must be valid for at least six months to be approved for entry into Taiwan. The duration of visa-exempt stays varies by nationality. If you plan to stay beyond the visa-exempt period (such as staying over 30 to 90 days), you cannot use the visa-free entry or landing visa, and must apply for an appropriate visa before arrival at our overseas embassy or consulate. Otherwise, the organizer will not be held responsible if the stay cannot be extended.

8. Enrollment

- (1) Date: Please follow the instructions provided in your acceptance notification. If you need to delay your enrollment, obtain prior approval from OCAC through the registration units; extensions are generally limited to three days.
- (2) Location: Refer to the acceptance notification for details.
- (3) Upon Enrollment: Participants are required to pay their portion of the fees and a security deposit, and will receive their participant ID card and accommodation details.
- (4) Fees:
 - 3-Week Program: The total cost is NT$38,800 per person; participants pay NT$23,800, with NT$15,000 subsidized by the OCAC.
 - 4-Week Program: The total cost is NT$51,700 per person; participants pay NT$31,700, with NT$20,000 subsidized by the OCAC.

9. Course Content

- (1) Mandarin courses: A series of intensive Mandarin-learning lessons help participants progressively improve their listening, speaking, reading, and writing skills.
- (2) Text input and Internet application courses: The classes use OCAC "Huayuworld" (www.huayuworld.org) resources and activities, allowing students to learn Mandarin and computer input methods through class activities.
- (3) Cultural courses: The classes focus on exploring traditional Chinese culture, Taiwan's diverse cultural heritage, and folk arts. Through various hands-on activities, both active and passive, participants gain in-depth personal experiences.
- (4) School Visits and Youth Seminars: Participants will visit one domestic university and one technical or vocational institution that hosts the specialized OCAC programs for overseas compatriot students (including the 3+4 Vocational Education Program for Overseas Compatriot Student, and Overseas Youths Vocational Training Program for 2-Year associate degree and 4-Year bachelor's degree). The participants will visit two schools in total (only one school for participants at the Global Program (Summer Class 1)). The visits will introduce Taiwanese higher education and technical-vocational education, including experience-based activities, and provide opportunities for participants to engage in discussions with students at the host schools.

- (5) Evening Activities: Flexibly arranged sessions such as self-study, tutoring, and group recreational activities.
- (6) Others: Nearby excursions and a 2-day-and-1-night graduation trip.

10. Program Features

- (1) Intensive courses from Monday to Friday, at least six hours a day. Lesson review or nearby excursions on Saturdays.
- (2) Classes are divided by the participants' Mandarin proficiency level, ranging from 10 to 16 students. Class exercise and homework are provided to help participants better grasp the language.
- (3) Cultural Courses and Visits: These activities allow participants to experience Taiwanese culture and expand their vocabulary in Mandarin across different contexts. Participants can also take home their hands-on projects as souvenirs.
- (4) Meals and Accommodation: During the program, participants are provided with three meals daily featuring Taiwanese flavors with balanced nutrition. Dormitories accommodate 4 to 6 participants per room, fostering interaction among participants from different regions and building lasting friendships.
- (5) Dormitory Facilities: Dorms are equipped with air conditioning, designated spaces for recreational and fitness activities, and self-service laundry facilities.
- (6) Off-Campus Stays: All participants must provide prior written consent from their parents or designated guardians to stay overnight off-campus.

11. Notifications

- (1) The organizer reserves the right to decide whether to proceed with the program based on various factors. If the program is canceled, applicants will be notified separately. However, costs incurred by applicants, such as airfare, will not be reimbursed.
- (2) This program provides accident or travel insurance for participants. However, participants must arrange their own personal medical insurance before departure. Should any pre-existing conditions recur or medical emergencies arise during the program, participants are responsible for all related medical expenses. Neither participants nor their guardians may file any claims against the OCAC or the executing agencies.

- (3) The program involves group living, dynamic activities, and off-site trips. Participants will share accommodations and cannot request or pay extra for room changes, private rooms, or additional beds for companions. Special accommodations cannot be provided. Those with medical conditions or symptoms that may significantly impact themselves or others—such as heart disease, cerebrovascular conditions, diabetes, infectious diseases, recent major surgeries, pregnancy, epilepsy, or mental disorders—are advised to carefully evaluate their situation before registering. Participation is not recommended in such cases.
- (4) Participants are expected to follow national laws and program regulations, including the regulations of the OCAC Language Study Program for Compatriot Youth. In cases of legal violations, severe misconduct, or situations warranting dismissal, the organizer may expel the participant without refunding program fees.
- (5) Participants who achieve a passing grade of 70 (out of 100), do not miss more than 20% of the total course hours (excluding government or hospital-imposed quarantine measures), and complete placement and final tests will receive a completion certificate in Mandarin and English. The certificate will also indicate the total hours of Mandarin language learning.
- (6) In accordance with Taiwan's Tobacco Hazards Prevention Act and to protect the physical and mental health of minors, participants are strictly prohibited from smoking or drinking at the program site, including dormitory areas. Violations will be subject to strict disciplinary action in line with relevant regulations.
- (7) In line with Taiwan's environmental policies to reduce waste, participants are encouraged to bring their own eco-friendly utensils, water bottles/cups, combs, toothbrushes, toothpaste, razors, shaving cream, shower caps, slippers, and other personal items.
- (8) If classes are canceled due to natural disasters (e.g., typhoons), such cancellations are considered force majeure, and make-up classes or refunds will not be provided. Similarly, participants who withdraw early, take leave, or miss activities for personal reasons will not be eligible for make-up classes or refunds.
- (9) Participants who fail to meet the requirements for obtaining a completion certificate, except in cases of force majeure, will be restricted from applying for the program in the following year.

12. If there are any doubts about the registration requirements, please refer to the Mandarin version of the Admission Guidelines.
